daily armchair

The Daily Armchair strikes the perfect balance of classic yet modern design. It takes inspiration from mid-century style, combined with a timeless aesthetic to meet today's needs and seamlessly integrate into all living spaces. The solid wooden frame is made with your choice of American walnut or oak and features a series of intersecting dowels and boards. These intersections create interesting joins and negative details throughout the chair. This detail is most prominent in the backrest where the dowels create a stunning series of repetitive junctions, making the chair as beautiful from the back as it is from the side or front. The cushions are made with comfortable multi-density foam and are upholstered in New Zealand with a range of premium fabrics.
